

NEWS RELEASE

March 25, 2020 – 10:00 a.m.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Regional intercommunity transit launch postponed

TILLSONBURG— In response to the COVID-19 virus spread in Ontario, the launch of the new intercommunity transit service connecting the Town of Tillsonburg with London, Woodstock, Ingersoll and other smaller centres has been postponed until further notice. The new service was originally scheduled to begin on April 1.

“In light of the current COVID-19 situation in our region, the Town is postponing the start of our new inter-community service,” says Mayor Stephen Molnar. “We continue to work proactively with regional and provincial partners and look forward to launching this valuable transportation service when it’s appropriate to do so.”

In the meantime, T:GO bus service within Tillsonburg is continuing with enhanced cleaning and sanitation of high touch areas every hour.

For more information

Stay up to date on the Town’s COVID-19 response by visiting www.tillsonburg.ca/covid19

Health information is available through the Southwestern Public Health website (www.swpublichealth.ca)

CONTACT:

Stephen Molnar, Mayor
Town of Tillsonburg
smolnar@tillsonburg.ca
519.688.3009 x 4050

Kyle Pratt, CAO
Town of Tillsonburg
kpratt@tillsonburg.ca
519 688 3009 x 4000

Kevin De Leebeeck, P.Eng. Director of Operations
Town of Tillsonburg
kdeleebeeck@tillsonburg.ca
519.688.3009 x 4400

ABOUT TILLSONBURG

Located 90 minutes west of the Toronto area, Tillsonburg offers companies a strategic location in Ontario's agriculture and manufacturing heartland. With low business and development cost, progressive policies and a high-speed fibre optic network, Tillsonburg is home to more than 600 regional, national and international companies. To find out more about Tillsonburg, visit www.tillsonburg.ca

The essence of Tillsonburg is captured in three words:

Connected – A strong sense of community, a history of engagement and collaboration, and strong connections to surrounding markets based on a strategic location within Southwestern Ontario.

Enriched – A high quality of life evidenced by community centre programs, opportunities to be meaningfully involved, abundance of parks and green spaces, and a rural/ urban influence that combines for a sustainable, comfortable pace.

Inspired – An entrepreneurial spirit and strong work ethic with leadership in agri-business and related ventures and a track record of "Made in Tillsonburg" solutions.